Dotter Books is a small book publishing company that is recently founded, but already have a loving passion of books and the art that is put into them. Here we help help desrving authors getting their books out there. Promoting their books along with it. We also have artists that have put thier work into the books they work, plus an enoyable visit for those who like looking at art from books artists. In other words, a book lover can come and look for new and unheard of books and artist who design the books for thier authors. If you love books and art, this is the place for you. Come on and enjoy the site
